3) Location discussion

CEI building:

- A building that needs renovations, but which could conceivably be a permanent market in future;
- Indoor and outdoor work could make it a permanent location;
- may fall into the hands of the city in future;
- could be perfect for indoor/outdoor, tarps on outside walls, etc.
- current issues: no access to kitchen; parking a bit of an issue

Eastern Edge building is/could be a perfect location, too.

4) Health Inspector

- Provincial inspector was informed there may be problems with our market
- Baked goods fine, because they don't need to be heated
- anything that has dairy or eggs or meat, that needs to be heated or refrigerated, is a problem
- Regulations state you have to have a food establishment licence, which is only given to a place, not a person, and they don't licence home kitchens.

SJFM Meeting Minutes

- Our health inspector can't see a way to get around this. No issues with what he saw happening at the market, though.
- Training for food vendors in health and safety issues a way to get around this?
- Lori to contact person at MUN who arranged for training for international food bazaars (Yvonne Collett ycollett@mun.ca) and Ayesha Sich 738-4413 (former coordinator for Multicultural Women's Organization)
- Frank to meet to talk about how other markets (PEI) get around this. A lot of other provinces have different legislation.
- What if vendors cook their food AT the market? Rent the place a few hours earlier and say people cooked their food in the market kitchen. (Colin to be in contact with Ray Pardy about this.)

5) Other notes

Media:

- Some of our media releases are not informative enough, we've been told
- We're in the NL horticulture newsletter and Agriview article

Last week's market:

- We only had 17 vendors (while we have room for up to 30 inside) Hiring a market manager:
 - This will have to wait until next year

Suggestion to start later in June next year since growing season starts so late.

Next Meeting: Wednesday, September 3, 2008 (7pm)

Emily's house: 63 Monkstown Road
